

Disciplinary Council of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec:
Decisions rendered in the cases of Rosaire Sauriol and Jean-Pierre Sauriol

Montreal, July 23, 2018 – The Disciplinary Council of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec rendered decisions in the cases of Rosaire Sauriol and Jean-Pierre Sauriol.

Following to an inquiry on violations of his ethical obligations between 2002 and 2009, Rosaire Sauriol acknowledged having paid a benefit to a political party or its representatives with a view to making sure that the firm where he served as an executive could participate in competitive bidding processes for municipal contracts in Montreal and Longueuil and having tolerated a system that made it possible to circumvent certain steps in the municipal competitive bidding processes for these cities. Rosaire Sauriol resigned and has not been a member of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec since September 19, 2013. He agreed to not register again on the roll of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec.

Following an inquiry on violations of his ethical obligations between 2002 and 2009, Jean-Pierre Sauriol acknowledged having paid a benefit to a political party or its representatives with a view to making sure that the firm where he served as an executive could participate in competitive bidding processes for municipal contracts for the City of Laval. Jean-Pierre Sauriol resigned and has not been a member of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec since September 8, 2015. He agreed to not register again on the roll of the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec.

These decisions are effective as Rosaire and Jean-Pierre Sauriol have abandoned the appeal proceedings they instituted with the Tribunal des professions.

About the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec

Founded in 1920, the Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec has a membership of some 63,000 engineering professionals in all fields, except forest engineering. The OIQ's aim is to be a unifying organization and a reference for professionalism and excellence in engineering. Its mission is to protect the public by acting to ensure that engineers serve society with professionalism, compliance and integrity in the public interest. For more information, go to www.oiq.qc.ca.

– 30 –

Source:

Aline Vandermeer
Communications Advisor
Ordre des ingénieurs du Québec
Tel.: 514 845-6141 or 1 800 461-6141, extension 3253